

FDP on RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

(Hybrid Mode)

Jointly Organised by : IQAC & Central Library

K.D.College of Commerce & General Studies

About The Programme

With the introduction of New Education Policy -2020, there is a paradigm shift in the Education System. The new policy strives towards a cumulative development of the learner's psychic personality as well as to equip him as an effective researcher proficient with one skill or the other. The juxtaposition of the holistic and the multidisciplinary, the indigenous cultural notions and foreign ideologies, Indian language and English, the Indian Knowledge System and the occidental scheme of things have broken the so-far prevailing design of the structure and knowledge base of the teachers, researchers as well as the learners. As the present NEP-2020 demands a new approach to the knowledge base for its implementation in newer research on the part of the teachers, so that the best output can be imparted to the learners, the FDP aims at providing a foundation as to how to manage the learning content to the best of their use in pursuing research, which is abundantly and variously found in e-repositories, hard copies and manuscripts. With changing research methodologies, in an era of multidisciplinary studies, it is a challenge and an opportunity for the researchers to find new vistas of avenues in the field of research. The Faculty Development Programme (FDP) aims simultaneously at enhancing the knowledge, skills, and overall effectiveness of educators, researchers as well as learners with a newer approach to research.
